

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
DISTRICT OF NEVADA

KRISHNA OKHANDIAR and REMILIA
CORPORATION LLC,

Plaintiff

v.

HENRY SMITH, MAXWELL ROUX, and
JOHN DUFF, III,

Defendants

Case No.: 2:23-cv-01409-APG-EJY

Order Transferring Case

[ECF No. 9]

The defendants move to dismiss or transfer, arguing that this court lacks personal jurisdiction over them and is an improper venue. In the alternative, the defendants request a transfer to the District of Delaware. The plaintiffs respond by agreeing to the case being transferred to the District of Delaware.

Under 28 U.S.C. § 1406(a), a district court may dismiss a case that is filed in an improper venue, or the court may, “in the interest of justice,” transfer the case to any district “in which it could have been brought.” Section 1406(a)’s language “is amply broad enough to authorize the transfer of cases, however wrong the plaintiff may have been in filing his case as to venue, whether the court in which it was filed had personal jurisdiction over the defendants or not.” Goldlawr, Inc. v. Heiman, 369 U.S. 463, 466 (1962). Factors to consider in determining whether transfer is in the interest of justice include “whether the statute of limitations would otherwise run, the convenience of parties and witnesses, and whether efficient and expeditious administration of justice would be furthered.” Sherar v. Harless, 561 F.2d 791, 794 (9th Cir. 1977). “Normally transfer will be in the interest of justice because normally dismissal of an action that could be brought elsewhere is ‘time-consuming and justice-defeating.’” Miller v.

1 Hambrick, 905 F.2d 259, 262 (9th Cir. 1990) (quoting Goldlawr, Inc., 369 U.S. at 467 and
2 evaluating similar “interest of justice” language in another transfer statute).

3 The parties agree that this case could have been brought in the District of Delaware. The 4 convenience of the witnesses and parties favors transfer given that the defendants have filed an
5 action against the plaintiffs in Delaware that has been removed to the District of Delaware. As
6 the parties are already litigating a case in that district that involves these same parties¹ and issues,
7 transfer is in the interest of justice. Although the defendants suggest that dismissal is more
8 efficient, a simple stipulation to consolidate the two actions upon transfer should take little time,
9 effort, or resources on the part of the parties or the Delaware court.

10 I THEREFORE ORDER that the defendants’ motion to dismiss or alternatively to 11 transfer (ECF No. 9) is GRANTED in part. This case is transferred to the District of Delaware
12 for all further proceedings.

13 DATED this 12th day of February, 2024.
